Dr. Remoroza earns additional certification

Rome Gastroenterology Associates, locally known as Rome GI, announces Dr. Roderick Remoroza has passed the certifying examination in gastroenterology. Remoroza is now board certified in both gastroenterology and internal medicine.

Remoroza is a graduate of the Manila Central University School of Medicine. He completed his internship and residency in Internal Medicine at the Lutheran Medical Center of Brooklyn, N.Y. He completed fellowships in clinical research and gastroenterology at the University of Connecticut, graduating in December 2003. He joined Rome GI in January 2004. He has special interests and advanced training in capsule endoscopy, motility disorders and hepatobiliary diseases (diseases of the liver and bile ducts).

Prior to his fellowships, Remoroza practiced internal medicine at Tri-County Medical Center of Evergreen, Ala. He lives in Rome with his wife Bernadette, a registered nurse, and their two sons.
